From the National Association for College Admission Counseling Statement of Principles of Good Practice:

“Early Decision (ED) is the application process in which students make a commitment to a first-choice institution where, if admitted, they definitely will enroll. While pursuing admission under an Early Decision plan, students may apply to other institutions, but may have only one Early Decision application pending at any time. Should a student who applies for financial aid not be offered an award that makes attendance possible, the student may decline the offer of admission and be released from the Early Decision commitment. The institution must notify the applicant of the decision within a reasonable and clearly stated period of time after the Early Decision deadline. Usually, a nonrefundable deposit must be made well in advance of May 1. The institution will respond to an application for financial aid at or near the time of an offer of admission. Institutions with Early Decision plans may restrict students from applying to other early plans. Institutions will clearly articulate their specific policies in their Early Decision agreement.”

If you are accepted to Tufts through Early Decision, you must promptly withdraw all applications submitted to other institutions, both via QuestBridge and the Common Application, and make no additional applications to any other university in any country. If you are an Early Decision candidate seeking financial aid, you need not withdraw other applications until you have received financial aid notification from Tufts University.

I wish to be considered for Early Decision Round 2 at Tufts University. I have read and understand my rights and responsibilities under the Early Decision Process. I also understand that with an Early Decision offer of admission, Tufts may share my name and ED Agreement with other colleges.
